Dear Shareowners,

India stands in the midst of knowledge transformation. Across the country literacy is fast improving year after year. With the exponential growth in Indian economy, disposable household income, and resultant spending, has been increasing. Parents/Students now prefer quality products in all product categories including those of your company. Various initiatives of the central government on increasing the literacy as well as quality education have also contributed to increasing the awareness for quality educational products. Students have now wider choice of selecting their future. Your company foresees a bright future for knowledge-based companies across the country.

In keeping with projections made last year, the proportion of publishing business to stationery business has increased in the year under review. Publishing new syllabus based books on time with intact quality has been a great challenge for your company. With the experience and expertise gathered over the last four decades, your company managed to publish the required titles almost in time with the help of experienced authors. Competition is increasing every year. But with the faith in the quality of our publications by the teaching and student community across the two states now has been the proof with revenues in publishing increasing to the expected numbers. Your company expects to show the same performance in future.

By appointing proper distributors channel in neighboring countries your company expects growth in export volumes of publication products.

The brand and the titles of "Grafalco", belonging to your company's subsidiary are well accepted in Spain. We are confident of leveraging the 30-year old brand in a few years when we expect the subsidiary to be a significant contributor to the bottom line of your company.

Competition in paper stationery products in domestic market is increasing but simultaneously every year the share of unorganized market is being taken away by the organized players like your company. The organic growth in domestic paper stationery business is clear and in the years to come, this business also will become another significant contributor to the top line and bottom line of your company. Your company's non-paper based stationery products have been received well by the domestic market and in few years we see this business also growing to become a valuable volume business.

Exports of paper stationery have been declining, but your company is striving to recoup the business by offering different products and also by exploring exports to different geographic areas.

Electronic learning is now being encouraged by schools and respective state governments. Real usage and benefit of such learning would be achieved well only with the involvement of teaching community. Your company is closely examining the product needs of the community and will enter the market at the right time.

In the first quarter of the current year, publications sales have improved but not to the levels expected as all the new titles were introduced during June and therefore could not be distributed in full quantities as required by the market. The additional sales would spill over in the following quarter. Exports of stationery have declined, On the other hand, stationery sales in domestic have increased considerably. Your company's new initiative of non paper based stationery is seeing good acceptance in the market and we are confident of noteworthy success in this sector.

Over all your company is growing steadily in both the segments.

Shivji K.Vikamsey

Economic Value Added (EVA)

Economic Value Added means the profitability of a company after taking into account the cost of capital. It is the post-tax return on capital employed (adjusted for the tax shield on debt) less cost of capital employed. Companies which earn higher returns than cost of capital create value. Companies which earn lower returns than cost of capital are deemed destroyer of shareholder value.
